Build your strike capability with Al Tariq – a modular family of Precision Guided Munitions designed for the MK81 and MK82 aerial bombs. Designed to fulfil operational needs for long stand-off ranges of up to 120km, Al Tariq is an advanced tactical solution with all-weather, day or night operational capability. The system enables enhanced targeting accuracy by using Imaging Infrared (IIR) technology with Automatic Target Recognition (ATR) capability, or a semi-active laser (SAL) seeker.

Ease of operation allows for simple integration and operation by ground crew and aircrew. Al Tariq supports your operational performance with a complete turnkey solution incorporating PGM kits, testing equipment, documentation and training to enable effective deployment anywhere in the world.
